36. TERRI HEINRICHS' passion for painting is clearly evident in her art. Her 'Vivid Impressions' series is an explosion of colour and texture, each piece a unique abstraction of the natural world. Her deft use of thick, creamy oil paint brings a lively and refreshing new perspective on the Canadian landscape. Visit www.terriheinrichs.com to find out more.

37. ERIN KNIGHT – Natural motives of flowers and birds dominate Erin's artwork. Located in Perth, Western Australia she often refers to local fauna and flora to embellish her designs. "Black Swan", 2020 (oil, acrylic and mixed media on board) celebrates the swan indigenous to the aptly named Swan River in Perth. In this artwork, strong and vibrant native flowers create a nest at the base of this majestic creature, framed by a rich gold backdrop, honouring the colours that feature in the states' flag. Artworks are available in giclee print and originals. See more of her work at erinknight.com.au or follow @erin_knight_artist on Instagram.

38. Australian contemporary painter and director of Melbourne gallery SD ART CONTEMPORARY, Sophie D'Assisi uses bold, gestural, colourful strokes to create an expressive figurative painting that evokes a sense of whimsy and childlike wonderment. Pictured is 'Catch Me If You Can', acrylic and charcoal on premium grade linen, 90cm x 90cm. 39. CASSANDRA CLARK is an artist and illustrator from Laurel, Mississippi. Her detailed pen and ink drawings seek to explore the anthropomorphic qualities of architecture, bringing to life the dichotomy of its monumental and intimate elements. Cassandra also undertakes commissions. Visit www.cassandraclark.co and follow @cassandraclark.co on Instagram to see more.

40. "South Island Range, New Zealand" is a 30" x 40" oil. The image so inspired Toronto artist BOB ARRIGO that in his words "I just had to attempt to capture its beauty!" A mountain vista like this one is absolutely inspirational and we can hardly imagine the incredible experience it would be to walk this very path. We can almost breathe the mountain air. Bob Arrigo's work is available at crescenthill.com or follow @bobarrigo on Instagram.

41. POPPIES AND DAISIES BY OLIVIA BRETT. Her work has a fundamental softness and expression to each piece, with an array of movement in the brush strokes creating true harmony of colour and texture. She predominantly paints expressive florals which aim to bring elegance and warmth into a space to inspire thoughtful moments and brighten your walls. For more information, visit www.poppiesanddaisies.com and follow @poppiesanddaisies_ on Instagram.

42. SUSAN LIZOTTE is an LA painter who mines history to emotionally render a poignant allegory for present day. Her tertiary palette seems culled from another era, one of parchment and velvet, sea foam and starry skies. Visit www.susanlizotte.com and follow @susanlizotte on Instagram.

43. ROBERT FRANKEL has always been fascinated with the effect colours can have on our emotions. He likes to create energy and motion on the canvas by contrasting bright colours, unusual shapes and patterns, and different textures often in a geometric setting. Pictured is 'Chicago Boogie', acrylic on canvas which is 76cm high x 100 cm long x 4 cm deep. Visit robertfrankelart.com or email rf@robertfrankelart.com

44. CONNIE LIEBSCHNER is a British artist exploring contemporary landscape inspired by her love of wild swimming. She uses chalky gesso and along with inks and acrylics to layer translucent sections and boundaries, evoking both stillness and movement within a single work. Visit www.connieliebschner.net and follow @connieliebschner_art on Instagram.

45. JEMMA CRAIG is an Edinburgh-based abstract painter who creates bespoke, original paintings to match your home's interior. She invites clients to choose colours and dimensions, but the gesture is entirely her own. Though most of her work is commission-based, you can shop available paintings at jemmaCraig.com and follow @jemmaCraigart on Instagram.

46. CHLOE HAWES is a painter based in Norwich, England. She focuses on deconstructing architecture to encourage the audience to reconsider how they view everyday spaces. Working in a mixture of mediums, her work ranges from prints and canvas pieces to large scale murals.
